Dirk,

Please see below:

Verivend has the funds and is moving the funds back into my account.
I will be removing them as we discussed and sending them myself asap.

Jake,

Per our phone conversation please see the confirmation below.

I see the funds back on our side again this morning, and will get them back into your account..
After review of the wire information, it looks like we incorrectly entered the IBAN number and that's why it has been rejected.
Please let us know if you'd like us to resend or you plan to remove the funds and do it yourself as you stated on the phone.

Dear Rick,
Dear Jake,

With reference to our earlier communications, we regret to inform you that the funds have still not been credited to our client's account.

As, according to Jake, the funds seem to have been debited from the account of JM EQUITY VENTURE LLC, please do kindly provide us with a proof of payment with respect to the transfer, in order to allow Dirk to on his side follow-up on it with his bank.

Please do not hesitate to contact us for any further information.

Thanking you for your swift reply and collaboration, we remain.

Kind regards,

Lars

Dirk and Lars,

I am writing on behalf of Jake and JM Equity Venture LLC, regarding the Convertible Loan Agreement executed between Monic Sarl and JM Equity Venture LLC. Jake is very ill, and we will not be able to attend the meeting that was scheduled this morning. This letter addresses an unforeseen and significant change in circumstances that directly impacts my client's ability to fulfill its original obligations under the said agreement.

Due to unforeseen events, specifically the withdrawal of key investors, my client finds itself in a position where it is unable to meet the originally agreed-upon financial commitments. This development was unexpected and beyond my client's control and necessitated reevaluating their current capabilities and commitments.

I will be removing them as we discussed and sending them myself asap.
